11. What is the purpose of the study?

5. The authors of the study of the effects of the 1997-1998 El Niño on the Amazon rain forest in the Peruvian Amazon, found that the effects of the El Niño were more severe in the eastern part of the Amazon than in the western part. The authors suggest that the reason for this is that the eastern part of the Amazon is more vulnerable to drought than the western part. The authors also suggest that the effects of the El Niño were more severe in the eastern part of the Amazon because the eastern part of the Amazon is more vulnerable to drought than the western part.
